Weather
Fine and mild. The maximum temperature yesterday was 72.5 and the minimum 45.1, the figures for the corresponding day last year being 75 and 52.9.

GERMANY'S GOLD MUST BE KEPT IN OCCUPIED ZONE

Reichsbank's Reserve Ordered Transferred By Allies As Security

ONLY 12 DAYS LEFT

If £600,000,000 Payment Fails On May 1 New Measures Will Be Applied

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, April 19.—The Reparations Commission's demand for the handing over of the Reichsbank's gold reserves, as security for the German deliveries under the Peace Treaty, fixes the date of expiry for compliance with this demand on April 22.

The Reichsbank's reserves are to be transferred to the Cologne or Coblenz branches of the Reichsbank, wher they will be allowed to appear on the balance sheet but cannot be disposed of without the permission of the Reparations Commission.

A statement issued here shows that this step was taken in consequence of Germany's disregard of Clause 236 of the Peace Treaty, in spite of warnings. The reserves will therefore be security for Germany's reparations obligations. If compliance with the demand is refused, the Commission will demand the immediate surrender of the metal reserves.

London, April 19.—M. Briand and General Weygand are coming over from Paris to attend an informal Allied conference at Hythe during the week-end at Sir Phillip Sassoon's home at Lympne, the historic scene of previous conferences.

Germany has now only twelve days in which to make a satisfactory proposal for the payment of the £600,000,000 due on May 1, in order to avoid new coercive measures.

BANDITS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF 'WAR,' ROB CITY

Shuiyie, Walled Town, Plundered, Famine Funds "Borrowed"

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, April 20.—According to the Changteho correspondent of the Peking and Tientsin Times, bandits have taken advantage of the military confusion to plunder the surrounding region. Shuiyie, a prosperous walled town, was thoroughly sacked, and hundreds of houses burned down.

The famine relief funds were "borrowed" under armed force, the famine-workers are in peril, and the distribution of supplies has practically ceased.

It is estimated that the lives of 160,000 persons are endangered.

Hankow, April 20.—A report has been received here from a reliable source to the effect that fighting continued all day Monday at Chumatien between the troops of Generals Wu Pei-fu and Chao Ti. The latter, who was defeated, at present expects other Tuchun's to assist him.

It is no longer thought that the disturbance is merely a mutiny.

It is reported locally that traffic on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway has been interrupted.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 20.—The reports received from Chinese sources that General Wu Pei-fu had been wounded have been officially denied. It is officially stated that the disturbances at Changtefu have come to an end and that traffic over the Peking-Hankow Railway will be reopened tomorrow or on Saturday.

It is unofficially reported that the rioters completely looted Yuan Shih-kai's old residence at Changtefu.

Miss Deacon has lived abroad the greater part of her life. She is a sister of Princess Radziwill.

AMITY MARKS CONFERENCES IN PUBLIC UTILITIES

Meeting Between French Council And Tram Representatives Is Placid

Th conferences between the French Municipal Council and the representatives of the French tramway, light and water company, another of which sessions will be held today, opened Monday with gratifying indications that the parties may reach a satisfactory agreement regarding the extensions which the Municipality has demanded.

At the opening of the meeting the president of the Council extended a welcome to Mr. L. Bridou, representative of the Paris officials of the company, and congratulated his confreres in that they had to deal with a man familiar with the situation and with local conditions. With Mr. Bridou, formerly a member of the Council and president of the Chamber of Commerce acting for the company, he predicted that a spirit of complete amicability would characterise the meetings. The president stated his belief that the best interests of the Concession could be safely entrusted to Mr. Bridou's hands.

Mr. Bridou in reply thanked the chairman for his remarks and stated that it was with a view to bringing about a reconciliation between the parties that he had accepted the appointment as representative of the company. He hoped first, he said, to bring the public and the Council to a fuller appreciation of the efforts of the company and of the measures they had adopted to meet the needs of the Concession, and he hoped also for a more friendly feeling in future between Council and company.

As regards the proposed main line, he said, the Chinese authorities have started on the corroborative work necessary at certain points to complete the plan for the main. Work on the filtering tanks to improve the quality of the supply will be started at the end of this month, he said, and new pumps have been ordered and are expected to arrive shortly. The steel water conduit to carry the water from the middle of the stream to the tanks has also been ordered from France, and if circumstances prevent its arrival on time the local engineering department will construct the conduit itself.

Further information regarding the proposed future capacity of the waterworks was then given by Mr. Bersani, the acting manager of the company.

Mr. Bridou assured the Council that the program for extensions, which it is expected will supply without extra charge, 26,500 cubic meters daily, would be completed by the end of May, 1922, unless adverse circumstances interfere.

There is to be another meeting at the Municipal offices this afternoon.

COUNCIL OUTLINES ITS ATTITUDE ON WATER PROBLEM

Would Approve Meter System; Wants Better Pressure

LARGER MAINS NEEDED

Municipality Stresses Fire Protection In Letters To Company

An extensive correspondence between the Municipal Council and the Shanghai Waterworks Company on the subject of the present water supply, extensions and revision of the present system of tariff is contained in today's Municipal Gazette.

Approval of the meter system—on a sliding scale basis—in assessing the tariff for domestic purposes, of the meter system for all other purposes other than for fire hydrant supply, of a 9-inch minimum for mains in all new extensions of a valve system to concentrate the supply in certain districts in case of fire and a minimum of 25 fire hydrants to the mile is suggested in a memorandum directed to the Council by its Secretary and sent to the Waterworks Company as an enclosure with the last letter in the published correspondence.

The correspondence extends over the period between April 8, 1920 and April 13, 1921, the date of the Council's last communication. In response to a request by the Council the company last November furnished figures concerning the quantity of water supplied, the revenue received, profits and losses and the cost of pumping. The figures are for the years 1908 to 1919, inclusive, and show that in 1908 the water pumped was 2,516,462,970 gallons—exclusive of the supply to shipping—while in 1919 the figure was 6,366,701,684 gallons. The profit recorded in 1908 was Tls. 38,866.74, while in 1919 there was a loss of Tls. 39.366.21 and in 1918 a loss of Tls. 126,807.46.

STRESS FIRE PROBLEM

In its last communication the Council lays special stress on the problem of water pressure for fire-fighting work and states that a minimum pressure of 45 pounds per square inch over the whole system of mains should be provided. Mains replaced or extended should be at least 9 inches in diameter and wherever possible should be supplied from both ends, while in addition an efficient system of valves should be installed for the entire network of mains to enable immediate concentration of water in any particular district. In this connection it is suggested that a corps of men from the fire brigade should be trained as turncocks to operate the valve system.

The installation of a high pressure system, held by the Chief Officer of the brigade to be the only alternative, is regarded by the Council to be out of the question owing to the cost.

Street hydrants of a pattern approved by the Council should be installed on existing and new mains as required by the Council and at the company's cost to the number of 25 to the mile, while in the more congested districts the Municipality would require installation of additional hydrants, also at the company's cost, but not closer together than 150 feet, except in special cases. The Council states that it would make itself responsible for the cost of water supplied through private fire hydrants.

EXTENSION COSTS

The Council's attitude as to main extensions is that the assessment of the cost, whether upon the consumer or company, or both, shall be determined by reference to the Municipal body, which will be guided by the principle that the consumer should pay a part or whole as the circumstances may dictate as reasonable, unless there is reasonable indication of the development of the district in which the extension is required, when the whole should be paid by the company.

The Council in its letter calls attention to the fact that the adoption of these views would involve radical alteration of the waterworks agreement of 1905 and their confirmation by the ratepayers would therefore be necessary.

Warlords Await Arrival Of Wang, Tuchun Of Hupeh

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 20.—Chin Yun-peng returned to Peking last evening. It is officially stated that Tsao Kun and Chang Tso-lin are awaiting the arrival of Wang Chan-yuan, who is expected at Tientsin on Monday.

On meeting the Premier, General Chang condemned the recent monarchical rumors which, he said, should not have misled anyone. As soon as the Militarists have reached an agreement amongst themselves they will come to Peking.

LLOYD GEORGE IN STRONG DEFENSE OF IRISH POLICY

Premier Contends Home Rule With Unity Is Better Than Sinn Fein Program

WILL FIGHT SECESSION

Republican Scheme, If Effective, Would "Balkanize World," He Says

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 19.—Replying to the appeal of numerous English and Scottish bishops and nonconformists, urging the Government to alter its policy in Ireland, Mr. Lloyd George says that he most heartily sympathises with the desire to bring about peace with a contented Ireland. He denounces the Sinn Fein reign of terror, he declares that the present policy of the Government is the sole practical solution that is just and wise, and that the Home Rule Act is a sensible and workmanlike method of carrying it out.

The fundamental issue, the Prime Minister adds, is secession versus union. He contends that the Government's ideal of combining unity with home rule is nobler than the Sinn Feiners' creed of excessive nationalism, which would take nothing less than isolation and which, if it had full play, would Balkanise the world. The controllers of the Irish Republican Army believed that they could ultimately win a republic by continuing to fight. As long as the leaders of Sinn Fein stood in this position and received the support of their countrymen a settlement was impossible. He was willing and anxious to discuss any and every road which promised to lead to reconciliation. He fully recognised that force was no remedy and that reason and goodwill alone would lead to the final goal, but the abandonment of force at present would be a surrender to violence, crime and separation.

Vancouver, April 20.—Mr. Osmond Esmonde, the Irish Home Ruler, has been committed for trial, charged with seditious utterances. He has been granted bail of $7,500.

Chicago, April 19.—Addressing a convention of the association for the recognition of an Irish republic, Mr. Boland, the representative of President Devalera in America, said that Ireland was going to ask American sympathisers for a further loan of probably 100,000,000 dollars to finance the fight for freedom.

Note To Britain Disavows His Act, But Adds That He Was In The Right

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 19.—The newspapers learn from Washington that on April 15, Secretary of State Hughes sent a note to Great Britain with reference to the allegations in the House of Commons that the United States Government had endeavored improperly to procure the annulment of certain oil concessions to a British company in Costa Rica. The note says that the American consul at San Jose was not authorised to criticise the concession, but adds that such criticism accords with the policy of the United States which does not recognise usurping governments.

The Unexpurgated Diary Of A Shanghai Baby

By Elsie McCormick

APRIL 19th.—Fair weather this morning. Took off one more layer of clothes. Mama asked Auntie if Bertie had said anything yet. "Nothing except that it was a nice day yesterday," said Auntie, looking cross.

Auntie spent rest of morning playing sad music on phonograph. Papa came in for tiffin while she was trying "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" and stood up straight with hand at forehead.

"W[illegible] you standing up?" said mama, coming in.

"That's Shanghai's national anthem," said papa, sitting down at end of record.

Spent some time in basement with amah, trying to make friends with cook's cat. Rather nice pussy, but don't like the way he sings. Sounds like Auntie taking vocal culture.

APRIL nineteenth.—Heard mama tell papa that houseboy was going to be married in a few days and that family should give him a present.

"What's the idea" asked papa. "We don't owe him any present. He's been harvesting his trousseau from my wardrobe for the past three months."

Mama said if we lost this houseboy, we might get another not interested in wardrobe but fond of family jewelry. Papa said that we might as well give him a present, as he would take one anyway. "What shall it be—a silver nut dish or a brass card-receiver?" papa asked.

"Neither, of course," said mama. "It ought to be something practical, that he could use every day."

"How about an alarm-clock?" asked papa.

Family still arguing when amah brought my bottle and piece of candied ginger cousin sent from Canton.

APRIL nineteenth.—Quiet afternoon. Heard mama wondering why living-room couch always looked so untidy in the morning. Could have told her that cook's brother-in-law, who is out of job, sleeps there every night after family goes upstairs, but mama never talks to me unless to say "da-da" once in awhile. Family rather snobbish. Glad amah and I move in same social circle.

APRIL nineteenth.—Papa came home early and mama told him that they were going to sukiaki with people they had met at card-party.

"Whose bright idea was that?" asked papa.

"Why, don't you like a sukiaki?" said mama.

"I can think of other ways of enjoying myself besides sitting in my stocking-feet on the floor eating Japanese stew and cold devil-fish," said papa. "Besides, I never went to one of those affairs yet that I didn't have a hole in my sock, and had to walk with my feet drawn up, so people couldn't see it."

"That's your own fault," said mama.

"Oh, is it?" asked papa. "Well, if I'm expected to do the embroidery on my own hoisery, I may as well borrow some Chinese clothes and hire out as a Number 2 Amah."

Nothing more said about stockings just then, but later heard papa ask mama to lend him some court-plaster, as he had discovered hole.

APRIL twentieth.—Went out this morning with amah and wooden elephant. Elephant very nice to bite tooth on, but always falling out of perambulator into street. Amah kind about picking it up and giving it back to me. Know taste of every street in Shanghai.

APRIL twentieth.—Mama received picture from America, which she said Aunt Mary sent her for anniversary present. "Isn't it a wonderful work of art?" said mama, showing it to papa.

"It surely is," said papa, turning frame, "which way do you look at it?"

"It's a view of the sun setting behind waves," said mama, snatching it away.

"Oh, is it?" asked papa. "I thought it was a ripe tomato rising above a sheaf of lettuce leaves."

Mama said papa had no appreciation of art, and papa said that he had and could prove it by bringing home picture which friend had just given him called "Nymph Among the Flowers."

"I'm not sure we would want that in our home," mama answered.

"Oh, it's perfectly O.K.," papa said. "It was done after the Futurist School and might just as well have been entitled, 'Electrical Buzz Saw in Action.'"

Family stopped talking about pictures, as wash-man came just then and mama wanted to know why all family linen had changed initials in each five days.

Copper Miners' Strike Settled

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, April 20.—The strike of Ashio copper miners has now been settled. The owners have agreed to recognise the existence of the men's union, but the wage-scale now in operation will be maintained for the time being. The men's other demands, including a minimum wage of Y.1.80 daily, an eight-hour day, a retiring pension after three years, and sickness relief, have not been granted.

WORST SLUMP IN YEARS SLOWS UP BRITISH SHIPPING

Vessel For Which Owner Recently Refused £90,000 Is Sold For £10,000

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 19.—The worst shipping slump in living memory prevails at present. Approximately 900 British vessels, with a tonnage of over two millions, have been driven to anchor by industrial stagnation and dissension.

A city authority declares that ships today are unworkable and unsaleable and "are being given away with pounds of tea." The shipbuilding centers are hard hit, and there are 56,000 workers idle as well as 170,000 employes of engineering and iron-founding trades.

Recently a Japanese vessel of 4,000 tons was sold for £10,000. Last year the ship was withdrawn from auction at £32,000, while the owners had previously refused £90,000 for it.

London Journal Sees Happy End In Yap Dispute

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 20.—The Daily Telegraph, in an editorial this morning, expresses the hope that the British and French Premiers will find time during their forthcoming week-end conference to discuss the Yap misunderstanding and find a solution which will satisfy the American claim without afronting the new mandatory.

The newspaper thinks it would be a pity for the Japanese to drift into a serious quarrel with the United States over "a fragment of rock and sand." It forecasts that France will throw her weight on the side of America, while Great Britain will probably use her influence with Japan. Thus the incident promises a satisfactory termination.

£7,500,000 Indian Loan To Be Floated

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 19.—Arrangements are being made for the underwriting of a new Indian Government seven percent loan of £7,500,000 bonds repayable in 1926 at 102 or in 1931 at par, and convertible into India three percents on the basis of 202 in 1922 and 200 in 1923. The loan is principally for the purchase of railway material in the United Kingdom.

London, April 20.—Lord Chelmsford, the retiring Viceroy or India, has arrived in London and has expressed most optimistic views in regard to the future of India. The legislative councils, he said, had already demonstrated that they were no sham but a reality, and they had displayed a great sense of balance and responsibility.

Lord Chelmsford foreshadowed the early collapse of the non-co-operation movement.

JAPAN'S PRINCE

OWNERS OF COAL MINES OFFER NEW PROPOSALS

Suggest National Wage Board For Fixing District Pay

MINIMUM RATE

Will Keep Compensation In Direct Ratio To Profits

MUCH VIOLENCE

Additional Thousands Thrown Out Of Work By Lack Of Fuel

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 19.—The coal owners spent over two hours today at the Board of Trade conferring with the Secretary of Mines, after which their president announced that there had been no new developments. Subsequently the Mining Association issued a statement expressing doubt of the usefulness of replying to the Miners' Federation's demand for information regarding the owners' offer to forego profits and to revise the wage schedule.

The Association said that it appeared that the Federation was not prepared to discuss wages until their two chief demands had been conceded. The owners could not possibly say more than they had already said without discussion with the Federation as, if they attempted to readjust conditions without consulting the men's representatives, they would run the risk of being accused of going back on the old-standing pre-war agreements.

London, April 20.—The coal-owners' new offer proposes:

(1) The establishment of a national wage board to deal with principles applicable to the whole country and which would be applied to the determination of wages in each district, based upon the financial results obtained in the district.

(2) Periods for the ascertainment of district results to be settled nationally.

(3) The point below which wages would not be automatically reduced to be determined nationally by reference to the base rates now existing in each colliery, including all additions since July 1914. (This representing earnings considerably exceeding the highest earnings for any period previous to the war.)

(4) Besides these rates, the workers to be given as wages the whole surplus revenue from each district during the existing abnormal period.

(5) The workers' representatives in each district to be satisfied that the district proposes to pay all the wages it can bear.

(6) The owners to confer with the workers' representatives with a view to dealing with the wages of the lower-paid men, and to reach a national agreement with the workers on the relation of wages and profits for the future.

There would also be joint audits of the owners' books by accountants representing the owners and workers to ascertain all the facts and fugures necessary for the adjustment of wages.

London, April 19.—Reports of the disastrous effects of the local strike on various industries continue to come from all parts of the country. The latest is that many potteries in North Staffordshire have closed down, rendering twenty thousand operatives idle.

Meanwhile the anger of the miners has found vent in disturbances in Scotland. The worst rioting since the crisis began occurred yesterday in Lanarkshire. Shops at Blantyre were plundered of provisions, which were deliberately wasted. Enormous damage is reported to have been done to buildings and plant as the result of rioting in Fifeshire.

London, April 19.—The coal owners negotiating committee had long conferences today with officials of the Department of Miners. It is expected that when the miners' executive meets on Thursday next, they will be informed that the owners are prepared to discuss important modifications in the wage scales previously offered.

A. E. S. Thompson In British High Court In Bankruptcy Case

In evidence given at a public examination held before Judge Skinner Turner in the British Supreme Court yesterday, Mr. A. E. S. Thompson, whose assets are given as Taels 29,184.30 and liabilities as Taels 448,698.38, a deficiency of Taels 419,514.08, testified that he attributed his bankruptcy to Chinese dealers leaving imported goods on his hands.

Messrs. James Morrison and Company of London were named as the principal creditors. Mr. Thompson testified that his San Francisco office had turned down bills totalling Taels 25,000 which he had to take up there.

In answer to the official receiver, Mr. A. L. Dickson, Mr. Thompson said that his position looked bad about the first of last August and he had sold his house on Route Ferguson for Taels 28,000. He denied to Mr. E. L. Hartopp, who appeared for the petitioning creditor, that the house was worth Taels 45,000.

Mr. Hartopp said he was instructed to say that the trustee was not satisfied he had seen all the books. He asked an adjournment but Judge Skinner Turner ruled that the examination should proceed.

Payment of Taels 1,500 made on March 21 by Mr. Thompson to the Foh Shing Flour Mills, who were pressing him for a debt of Taels 6,000, was a subject of much questioning during which it was brought out that the receiving order was made on April 1.

Mr. Thompson said it was part of an arrangement under which Messrs. Morrison entertained business with him that he had to show capital assets in his business of Tls. 50,000.

Mr. Hartopp—Is it or is it not a fact that in order to show this you took the Flour Mill's indebtedness away from your firm's books? A.—I swear that is not so. I swear I had money apart from the Tls. 50,000.

Q.—Yes, but had you disclosed this indebtedness would you still have been able to show a capital of Tls. 50,000? A.—Had I put my house in certainly. Messrs. Morrison were informed of the debt at the time and were perfectly well aware of it.

The Foh Shing debt was incurred in 1918, witness said. At his offices in Siking Road the name of E. Thompson and Co., was put up, probably on February 1, of this year. That firm was not carrying on his export business. It was carrying on the export business of Mr. A. W. Thompson, his uncle and was no part of his business though previously it had been. It was capitalised by his brother, Mr. E. Thompson.

Mr. Thompson said none of witness's goods were pledged or hypothecated in order to provide money for that business. He said he was in no sense in partnership with his brother, who had provided the whole capital.

Witness said he received a salary of Tls. 400 from his brother's firm. He had written in about that matter because he wished to know if he were to work for the trustee or not. He was not insolvent as far back as last June. He had advised Morrison's about that time to cancel the contracts.

If that had been done this position might not have arisen, he testified. Unofficially Mr. Birch, Morrison's representative urged him to settle at least £100,000 in excess of what he had settled. Mr. Birch wanted him to gamble on the exchange but Morrison's would take no share in the risk. He had not promised to do so as soon as exchange showed signs of weakening.

Mr. Thompson was questioned at length about his personal expenses, house expenses and gifts to his wife.

Police Make Big Drug Haul In Raid

Some $3,500 worth of heroin and cocaine valued at several hundred dollars constituted a haul made by the police of West Hongkew station Tuesday when two Honanese who had bought the stuff and the dealer with whom they negotiated fell out.

According to the story outlined in court yesterday, the two Honanese bought the drug on credit Monday. They arranged to leave town on the next morning's train and sent the hotel coolie to the station with their luggage. The local dealer, whose name is Ling Tsang-wo and whose shop is located at 80 Foochow Road, learned of their intended departure and with his ricsha coolie started out to intercept the hotel attendant and luggage. The latter was overtaken on Haining Road and set up a cry when the other two men tried to take away the property. A constable brought all three to the station. Here detectives in inspecting the luggage came upon a bed quilt which seemed unusually heavy. Ripping it open they removed two long flat bags, containing a white powder which the laboratories pronounced to be heroin. Between the backs and glass of two large mirrors were found two more bags containing strychnine and on the persons of the two men from Honan, who were arrested later in a tea shop, were found three small packets of cocaine.

Yesterday the dealer and his coolie were charged with attempted highway robbery and the two Honanese and the hotel coolie with possession of noxious drugs. The coolies were discharged and the charge of attempted robbery made against the shopman was dismissed and he was included in the charge against the other two men.

In remanding the case the court commented that the three had convicted themselves out of their own mouths.

Mixed Court Jottings

A daylight godown breaking on The Bund and the removal by motor truck of 800 cases of soap was charged to a shopkeeper and a shop assistant who appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday. A third man, a Chapei shopkeeper, was accused of receiving part of the property. The soap was recovered by detectives from West Hongkew Station. The case was set for hearing next Wednesday. Mr. J. O. Fischer, appearing for the complainant, declared that the case amounted practically to highway robbery, the accused having gone to his client's premises at 5A The Bund with a motor lorry and stolen the soap. He would make a further charge against the accused, he said—that of obtaining 200 cases of soap by means of forged godown orders. The two principal accused were ordered released on Tls. 3,000 shop security and the third on Tls. 400 Settlement shop security.

The six coolies charged with the murder of a woman in the Tao Dan Koh village, off Gordon Road, on March 2 were up for further hearing yesterday, when a Haichow detective appeared with a warrant for five of the men, who are wanted at Haichow as being members of a gang of robbers. The murder was committed, it is believed, from motives of revenge, members of the family of the deceased having given information regarding the band to the authorities. Two men and a child were wounded in the attack, the assailants firing nearly twenty shots. The case was remanded until Friday. Mr. R. C. Faithful appeared for the prosecution and Mr. H. D. Rodger for two of the accused.

Milk dispensed by the Yok Kyi Dairy, a large establishment at 815 Gordon Road, has recently been composed to a large extent of water, it was shown yesterday when the dairykeeper was brought to court. Tested in the Municipal laboratories the water percentage proved to be 68 and a fraction. The dairy man, who had been fined for a similar lapse in February, was assessed $100.

Two men and a woman were charged yesterday with being in possession of counterfeit small silver coins. They were arrested on information received following the arrest of a man who was trying to pass bogus coins in Frenchtown several days ago. All will be tried next week.

Changes Expected In Peking Cabinet

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 20.—It is officially reported that changes in the portfolios of Finance and Education may be expected. There is reason to believe, however, that the Chihli and Chiaotung parties have reached an agreement which will prevent any other changes in the Cabinet.

It is believed that the Chiaotung-pu has agreed to finance a Mongolian expedition in which General Chang's forces will participate, though there is no intention on the part of the Government to depart from a policy of pacification towards the Mongols, so long as the latter expel the Ungern forces.

"A Visit to Your Store is an Education"

We quote one of our customers who spent an interesting quarter-hour looking over our displays of choice, delectable food offerings.

She was astonished to see the multitude of good things that we have imported from Alaska, America, Canada, Denmark, France, Holland, Italy, Norway, Portugal, Russia, Spain and Sweden; and she expressed appreciation of the assistance we are rendering the home-makers of Shanghai by placing within their reach things that go a long way towards helping them make their meals piquant, appetizing and irresistible.

You'll agree with her—just come and see!

Banvard's

Shanghai artists played to a full house at the Olympic last night when with the full Banvard company they co-operated in the benefit to Mr. Harry Neville, formerly of the Denniston company.

The bill was especially selected with the best bits from the Banvards long repertoire worked into a revue of music, song, dance, and special interludes of humor.

Miss May de Souza was given a rousing encore after her three songs: "Kiss Me Again," "Poor Butterfly" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." It was singing such as the Shanghai theatergoers have not heard for a long, long time.

Miss Helene Duval, rendered three songs: the "Waltz" from Flora Bella, "One Fine Day and "Comin' thro' the Rye." Her singing was one of the fine spots in the program.

The Opening Chorus from the Harem Belles, lead by the dainty Grace Feathers opened the bill. Ian McLean's "Cairo Love" and "Laddy Boy," and Miss Winnie Goodwin and Adrian Ross in the Pierot and Pierette dancing specialty featured the Banvard's efforts.

Only one of the Silas brothers appeared in their Mirth, Music and Mimicry number, due to illness. The efforts of the sole entertainer, however, were above par. He filled the team's time in to a nicety.

Mr. Harry Neville gave a monologue of anecdotes, after which he spoke in appreciation of the benefit accorded him. It was the first benefit he had ever taken he said. And it was a good one.

Tonight the Banvards will play for the first time in the East a farcical comedy in two acts, "Looking for Love." It had a popular run in London, and is certain to be well presented by the Banvard company here.

Dr. Sun Submits Legislative Plan

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, April 19.—According to the Hongkong Telegraph, Dr. Sun Yat-sen yesterday submitted a bill to the Administrative Council at Canton, proposing the adoption of a federal system. In doing so, he contended that provincial self-government was an urgent matter, and necessitated the appointment of a head. He proposed to convert the Military Government into a league of self-governing provinces, with the President at its head. The President would deal with foreign affairs, and not interfere in matters of internal administration. He announced that the various provinces had been notified accordingly.

Attractions At The Theaters

A dramatic menu including everything from the lightest of musical comedies to a screen sermon endorsed by a formidable array of pastors will be served up to the Shanghai public within the next week or two. With the Bandman and Banvard Companies playing on opposite sides of town, and with movie theaters becoming as numerous as police stations, the Astor House in Shanghai may soon bear a faint resemblance to the Astor Hotel in New York, which is within ten minutes' walk of fifty theaters.

Tomorrow night the Bandman Company appear at the Lyceum Theater in the London revue, "Buzz Buzz," which promises to be as well-staged and well-produced as the two musical comedies which the company has already given. With artists such as Miss Dolly Prince, Jack Crichton, and Jerry Verno answering to the roll-call in the cast, the show is certain to measure up to a standard, which, if not considered high at home, is at least much better than the average Shanghai offering. On Saturday and Monday, the Bandman Company will give "The Kiss Call," a call the local public will not be slow to answer.

BANVARDS CHANGE

Tonight at the Olympic Theater the Banvard Company will appear in "Looking for Love," which is described as a farcial comedy with music, and which differs from other offerings of the company in having a more consecutive plot. The story concerns the theft of a picture, the pursuit of the artist by a criminal group known as "The Yellow Band," a retired burglar who kindly offers to disguise himself as the artist, and the love affair of a pretty model. Interspersed, with the plot are songs, dances, and specialties of the type in which the Banvard Company excels. The original numbers are by Judge Robinson and Douglas MacLaren, and the Shanghai production of the musical farce is being staged by the Banvard comedian, Leonard Neville, who also plays the part of the burglar. On Saturday night this popular company, which has successfully stood the test of a three weeks' engagement, will make its farewell bow to Shanghai in "Castles in Spain."

"STREAM OF LIFE"

A sermon adapted to the screen and called "The Stream of Life" will be shown at the Olympic Theater on April twenty-sixth. The film was produced as a challenge to those who claim that no photoplay can be a success unless it includes sensational features. "The Stream of Life" is far from being sensational, but those who have seen the film say that it has a quiet power that holds the interest even of those who have had a steady diet of thrillers. The picture has been endorsed by a large number of pastors and many members of the missionary community are welcoming its production here.

AT THE APOLLO

Those who wish to enjoy an evening of smiles are advised to "Leave It to Susan" at the Apollo Theater, beginning tonight. The fact that Madge Kennedy, whose braids are almost as famous as Mary Pickford's curls, and whose eyes have a humorous glint that quite belies her convent-bred manner, takes the leading part is all one need know about the film.

Beginning next Sunday, the Russian Light Opera Company, consisting of 55 artists, will open an engagement at the Apollo. They will revive many favorites of this generation and last, including "The Merry Widow," "The Count of Luxemburg," and "Gypsy Love," which if not new, possess the greater advantage of having been proved good. Most musical comedies live no longer than fireflies. Those that stand the test of years are the kind that are worth seeing over again. Russian companies excel as a rule in the ballet, and the group to visit the city next week will not prove an exception. The company is bringing a special orchestra led by M. Olshanetsky.

"THE DRAGON'S NET"

Tonight at the Isis Theater, the ninth and tenth episodes of "The Dragon's Net" will be shown for the last time. These two parts of the serial are especially interesting, as they include views of the Great Wall of China and the tropical tangles of the Philippines. Adding to the attraction of the bill is Miss Ruth Clifford in "The Cabaret Girl." On Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights, the Isis Theater will show Norma Talmadge and her younger sister, Natalie, in "The Isle of Conquest," a story that concerns the selection of a husband amid circumstances of unusual dramatic interest.

VICTORIA THEATER

Florence Turner, one of the earliest stars to make a reputation in the moving-picture world, has returned to the screen with Albert Chevalier in a film of married love, "My Old Dutch." The photoplay is billed at the Victoria Theater for tonight and for the matinee on Saturday. Those who remember Miss Turner when she played years ago under the Vitagraph trademark will be glad to see her again after her long absence from the films.

CONCERT SATURDAY

Another musical treat will be afforded Shanghai music lovers next Saturday evening, when Miss Vivian Arnold, celebrated soprano, late prima donna Covent Garden, London, Century Opera Company and Hippodrome, New York, will give a concert in the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium, 120 Szechuen Road. She will be assisted by Mr. John Rogers, violinist, and Mr. Hubert Shaw, accompanist.

Ernest Woods, music critic of the London Times, writes:

"Miss Arnold is equally effective on the recital platform and in opera. Her voice is a dramatic soprano and rich in timbre. In her interpretation she displays musical intelligence and elasticity of mood. She is an artist well worth hearing."

The program is to begin at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets at $1 are on sale at Messrs. Squires Bingham and Co., 17a Nanking Road, and also at the Y.M.C.A.

NAVY "Y" ENTERTAINMENT

On Friday evening at eight o'clock there will be a literary and musical entertainment for the Navy men now in port. A number of special readings are to be given by Miss Eleanor Haber, who leaves shortly for the south. An excellent musical program is also to be furnished under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Paget of the American Woman's Club, who is the hostess of the evening. It is anticipated that there will be a good number of French sailors present from the Cruiser D'Estrees and they have been invited to attend.

Light refreshments will be served. A short Cinema show will conclude the program.

Those who may be interested are invited to attend.

Mild Sentences For Arms Dealers

The three Japanese arrested recently in possession of a large number of automatic pistols and rounds of ammuniton, were before the Japanese Consular Court for sentence Tuesday, together with a fourth man implicated after the raid. Two of the men were given sentences of 29 days each, a third got 20 days and the fourth 10 days. The evidence developed the fact that the arms and also quantities of cocain, opium and morphia—in which commodities the men also dealt—were smuggled ashore here by members of the crews of Japanese vessels.

American Woman's Club

The need of more emphasis on religious education in the training of children was stressed by Mrs. L. J. Birney in a paper read yesterday morning before a meeting of the Mothers' Department, American Woman's Club. Mrs. Birney quoted many eminent American authorities to prove her point that the neglect of such training threatens serious danger to the nation. Many plans had been worked out, the speaker said, for introducing religious education into the public schools, but none of them had proved practicable owing to the difficulty in satisfying all denominations. The major part of the responsibility must rest with the family.

Before the reading of the paper, Mrs. T. G. McMartin reviewed Hodge's "The Training of Children in Religion."

Mrs. W. G. Hiltner announced that the Mothers' Department will be at home to members and their husbands on the evening of April thirtieth at 114 Dixwell Road.

The next meeting of the Mothers' Department will take place on May fourth at the Royal Asiatic Society Hall, when Mrs. Guy C. Stockton will give a second talk on "Art Appreciation."

(Reuter's Service)

Thirty thousand persons witnessed the procession to the mausoleum in the antique temple, in which the Ministers, Hohenzollern ex-royalties and nobility, ex-King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Hindenburg, Ludendorff, Mackensen, von Kluck and von Tirpitz participated.

It is worthy of note that the crowd tendered an ovation to Hindenburg after the service.

The mail had not been expected until Monday the 25th. It was not known until the mail arrived that the Suwa was carrying pouches for Shanghai.

It was also learned yesterday that the steamer Hawaii Maru, which was expected to bring mail from America, will not have any mail matter this trip. This means that the next mail due at the American postoffice will come on the China, due Monday, April 25.

DEFECTIVE DIGESTION

How It May Be Overcome

One of the direct causes of ill-health is indigestion, and this arises most often from eating unsuitable diet, and bolting food without sufficient mastication. Thus food, instead of being quickly digested and converted into nourishing health-giving blood, becomes a fermenting mass, giving rise to flatulence and forming poisons.

Headaches, depression, lack of appetite, and the torture of dyspepsia are signs that the stomach has lost tone and is being wrongly dieted. Keep your digestion perfect and eat wholesome food and you will find the way to be well. Sufferers from indigestion require new blood to cure this painful disorder, and by taking Dr. Williams' pink pills they will satisfy all the needs of the blood, nerves and stomach. These pills sharpen the appetite, brighten the spirits, banish depression and headaches, and establish good health on a secure foundation of rich red blood.

The case of Mr. George Taylor, of 128 Thugnee Street, Wellington, New Zealand, proves the value of the Dr. Williams' treatment for indigestion. He says:

"When living in Sydney I began to suffer with indigestion. After a time I could eat very little owing to the bad pain I knew would follow, and in consequence I got very run down and weak. The complaint grew worse, and I tried many remedies but couldn't get relief. I couldn't take an interest in anything. At times my head would ache and the room seemed to be spinning round and round, and I had to clutch things for support. I used to go without food to relieve myself of the dreadful feeling in the stomach. My sleep at night was very short, and I used to lie awake and wait for the daylight to come. One day an acquaintance asked me if I had tried Dr. Williams' pink pills. I thought I would try them. At the end of the first bottle my appetite returned to me. I was delighted, and continued taking them till I felt well and fit again. Now I am the picture of health, and never have indigestion after eating."

The beneficial efficacy of Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people on the digestion is very quick and well-marked. This can be proved by starting a course of the pills now. They can be bought of medicine vendors everywhere, or direct and post free, one bottle for $1.50, six bottles for $8, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Taiping Rubber Estates, Ltd.

Tapping has been suspended on the Taiping Rubber Estates since February 1, because of the prevailing low market prices for rubber, according to the speech of the chairman at the company's annual meeting held yesterday at the offices of the agents, Messrs. Hopkins, Dunn and Co., Ltd., 17 Avenue Edward VII. "To continue to produce at present prices," he said, "would be sheer folly."

The condition of the estates was shown to be good, and finances showing as well as market conditions warrant.

Yesterday's meeting was presided over by Mr. Brodie A. Clarke. There were also present Messrs. J. Frost and A. J. Welch, directors, and several other shareholders, representing in all 38,523 shares.

Resolutions were passed as follows:

"That the report and statement of the company's accounts for the period ended December 31, 1920, as presented to the meeting be approved and passed, proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Frost.

That Mr. J. Frost be re-elected a director of the company, proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Welch.

That the appointment of Mr. A. J. Welch as a director of the company be confirmed, proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Frost.

That Messrs. G. H. & N. Thomson be re-elected auditors of the company for the ensuing year at an annual fee of Tls. 250.00, proposed by Mr. Y. Ayat, seconded by Mr. Hua Yung-keng.

That in accordance with paragraph 55 of the company's articles of association the next annual general meeting shall be held in either the month of April or May, 1922, proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Frost.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

"Gentlemen, the output of rubber was some 13,000 lbs. less than for 1919 a number of trees, on the recommendation of the visiting agent having been given a rest.

The all-in-cost of production is shown at 1/3d per lb. as against 2/- per lb. for the previous year. This reduction was entirely due to the exchange factor. In the 1919 accounts we had a debit to exchange of Tls. 9,728.00 while in the present account you will find a credit to exchange of Tls. 11,233.78. The average price received for all grades was 1/5¼ per lb. as against 1/9½ for the previous year.

"With reference to the accounts there is little to be said—they show a balance at profit and loss of Tls. 3,587.07 deducting from this the amount brought forward from 1919 account Tls. 1,703.49 we have a profit on the year's working of Tls. 1,883.58 which though very small is better than a loss.

"In view of the present low price of rubber your directors decided to stop tapping from 1st February, during the nonproducing period the running expenses of the estate will be approximately $.31,300 per month—and represents a considerably less loss than would be entailed by producing and selling rubber at the present price. In regard to this, I may tell you that 19,000 lbs., sold during January at the Singapore Auctions realised an average price of only 26 cents—Straits currency—equal to less than 7½d per lb. To continue producing rubber for this price is I am sure you will agree sheer folly.

"With all expenses cut to the very lowest point your estate is in a position to keep afloat for a year, if necessary, without further income and I can only voice the hope that conditions may change for the better before the year is out."

Sores from Wrist to Elbow
"Completely Healed"

Our portrait is of Mr. John Kidd, of 17, Mill Lane, Kilmarnock, Scotland, who writes: "My right arm became covered with sores from wrist to elbow and was useless for over two years. I tried different ointments and so-called cures, but they never did me any good. Then I tried your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and the sores soon began to heal up and power began to come back to my arm, so I persevered with the Mixture, and after having four bottles am glad to say my arm is completely healed up and I have now the full use of it." In a further letter over a twelvemonth later Mr. Kidd writes: "I have had no return of my complaint; my arm is still as sound as a bell and never troubles me in the least."

SAYS "BUGS" Baer:

AN IMPOSTOR GETS TIPPED OFF

Bar Mill Mike Never Fought Gink Fowler Any Place, Any When Or Any What

BY "BUGS" BAER
Sports Editor

As a rough guy this Gink Fowler of Roughtown would make a swell professor of etiquette in a day nursery. He may have been a roughian, but not in comparison with Bar Mill Mike of Pittsburgh. Mike takes the self-stopping wrist watch. In his corner stood cast-iron water buckets and bottles. His seconds fanned him with a piece of boiler plate. Instead of a bell they used a 75 mm. gun. Mike's favorite Sunday pastime was pulling coal barges and steamboats out of the Ohio River.

He killed off a brigade of Germans in the Argonne by simply using a mean profile look. If he had turned on 'em full face it would have stopped the war.

P. S. DAVIS,
Wilson, Pennsylvania.

We came here to praise Gink Fowler, not to bury him. As Knickie Ambassador to all the domestic and foreign riots in Roughtown, he stood serene. You might bull him but nobody could cow Gink. He was the first man in the world to operate on himself for appendicitis and always manicured his own nails with a trip hammer. If he wanted his hair parted he used to lay down on the B. and O. tracks.

At the age of six months he cranked up his own cradle and started out on a tour of the world. Now, at the age of a century and sixteen yards more, he is still open to meet the world in fisticuffs, rickiboots or drinkisniffs.

We well remember the day that Bar Bill Mike first parked his groundgrippers in Roughtown. He sneaked in under cover of the annual Roughtown May Dance. The sun was shining half strength on Roughtown. It was afraid to turn on full power because it was skeered of Roughtown shining back at it. The sky was a beautiful intimidated blue and the clouds were frightened white. Even the horizon maintained a discreet distance. For it was the day of the Roughtown May Pole dance and all the world was running second.

BOWS TO LEGREE

Bar Mill Mike came walking up the street backwards. Passing the municipall statue of Simon Legree he took off his kelly in reverent silence. Whatever ideas he may have coagulated about his own personal roughness were scattered into a jig-saw puzzle when he piped a Roughtown mouse driving three cats tandem down the Boulevard of a Million Ash Cans.

This wasn't the main street of Roughtown. Every street was a maim street, but the maimest of all was Atrocity avenue. Like San Francisco, Roughtown had a civic center. Here stood the intercollegiate abbatoir, the national bloodpit and the amphitheater where they held their 365 day bite races.

The Boulevard of a Million Ash Cans was a beautiful promenade for yeggs and their clients. It was smoothly paved with broken bottles carpet tacks and other encouragements to motoring. The curbs were fitted up with sleeping accommodations for strangers. Hedges of English battle axes lined the walks while magnificent rows of shellilehr cast their beneficent shade over pedestrians.

Everything was in readiness for the dance. The miners and sappers had just dug their dynamite-festooned tunnels and were throwing a pontoon bridge of bird's-eye maple over the disputed territory. The Mayor of Roughtown sat in state in his official electric chair. The little children were donning their trench hats and adjusting their bayonets. The festivities were about to start. The Mayor raised an arm that was to be the signal. Bar Mill Mike noticed that he raised it in self-protection.

GRANITE CONFETTI

A few beads of perspiration forced themselves through Bar Mill Mike's ivory skin. The happy children stood with handfuls of granite confetti. The mayor rang the starting bell. Bar Mill Mike's pressure fell sixty points as he heard the merry peal. The dance had been started by an ambulance gong.

Bar Mill Mike took it on the loor for the only Roughtown exit, which was through the Zoo where the lions hadn't been fed in sixty days. He never stopped and they say that he is running an extra ring around the moon.

That was the nearest that Bar Mill Mike came to Gink Fowler.

NEW ORLEANS IN WITH NINE; GAME ON SUNDAY

Cruiser Drops Anchor And Sailors Will Practice Today At Race Course

MEMBERSHIP NOW IS 425

Willson Still 575 Short Of The Required 1,000 With Big Program Planned

The U. S. S. New Orleans eased up the Whangpoo yesterday afternoon and dropped her anchor and the boys started to unpack their baseball equipment before six o'clock so that they will be ready for an early practice session this afternoon in preparation for the five-inning practice game scheduled for Sunday afternoon with Shanghai.

The sailors are to work out about 2:30 this afternoon and a stiff practice session is to be held as the men are all in good shape after their stay in Manila. The New Orleans hasn't a world-beating baseball club but as the men will be in better shape, they should be on the long end Sunday afternoon. The cruiser team was beaten by the nine from the U.S.S. Huron in Manila but comes here with a pretty fair record.

Shanghai had a short practice yesterday but the players do not feel like limbering up with the thermometer hovering around the freezing point. Warm weather today, tomorrow and Saturday will unloosen the boys sufficiently so that they will be able to give a good account of themselves Sunday afternoon.

Sunday's game is carded for 2:30 o'clock as Captain Brad Crow figures on reaching the fifth inning before the sun sets in the West, or wherever the sun sets in this part of the world.

Secretary Woodrow Willson reports that 425 persons have joined his baseball club which means that 575 others must come through if the team goes through the season without charging extra

URGA REFUGEES IN SAD PLIGHT; HUNDREDS DYING

Lacking Conveyances, They Fall Exhausted On Roads, Says "Observer"

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 18.—The following report of the Chinese Official Observer is dated Manchuli, April 3:

This morning there arrived another—the third—trainload of Chinese refugees from Urga, consisting of some 1,600 persons. The Chita Railway authorities are paying special attention to the quick despatch of trains once they leave Verkhne-Udinsk, the trip in this instance from that place to Manchuli taking six days, one of which was spent at Chita. From all accounts there are still over 20,000 Chinese, who have fled from Mongolia, to be evacuated, and the lot of the last batches will be worse than that of those who are arriving at present, for many of these have been able to save a little money to buy bread on the way, which they are sharing with those who have nothing.

At Verkhne-Udinsk the branch of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce attends, as far as it is possible owing to the lack of funds and food-supplies, to the distribution of black bread to the refugees whilst they are at Verkhne-Udinsk, with a small quantity for the journey, for they get no further supply until they arrive at Manchuli. Here they are being well treated, both by the Chinese officials and the Chamber of Commerce.

From all accounts it was those who were able to get hold of conveyances to carry them from Kiakhta to Verkhne-Udinsk by the highroad who got away first, but there are far more persons left behind to walk the journey who are absolutely destitute and are actually dying on the road from exposure and hunger.

Concert Sunday

The 23rd symphony concert of the Municipal Band will take place at the Town Hall on Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The following program will be given:

1.—Overture "The Bartered Bride" Smetana
2.—Symphonic Poem "Moldau" Smetana
3.—Two Dances Piemontesi Sinigaglia
4.—Variations for Orchestra Elgar (An original theme "Enigma" with 13 variations; then the 14th in the form of "Finale;" each variation being intended to stand for the musical portrait of one of the composer's friends, to whom this fine work is dedicated).
5.—Overture "Robespierre" Litoeff.

A. de Kryger,
Assistant Conductor.

for big series in view. If 1,000 persons join the organisation this means ten thousand Mexican dollars in the treasury and although steamship fares are higher and hotel bills impossible, ten thousand dollars will help.

The Club must have the money if it is to give baseball of the calibre desired. Away off on the horizon a man without too much imagination can see the University of California, Leland Stanford University, the University of Washington, one or two teams from Manila, the 15th Infantry nine from Tientsin, an American Legation Guard team to represent the Peking Marine detachment, a couple of Japanese teams and one or two others here.

Figure out what the attractions will cost—then send Mr. Willson the ten bucks.

Practice today at 5:15 o'clock.

The Tientsin Conference

WHILE North China is thrilling with excitement over the military conference between Chang Tso-lin and Tsao Kun at Tientsin, the view held in Shanghai is that sensational developments will not immediately follow. Tuchun Wang Chuan-yuan whose growth of power in the Yangtsze Valley, is causing their two northern chieftains considerable loss of sleep, has ignored Chang's invitation to journey up to Tientsin and join in the parley. It is reported however that Tuchun Wang is considering the advisability of sending a representative.

It is probable that the conference will result in nothing for the present beyond the issuance of wordy but unimportant manifestos. These will be mostly aimed at Dr. Sun Yat-sen, newly elected President of the Southern Republic. The northern leaders will first warn Dr. Sun to refuse office as President, and if this warning is ignored they will go through the form of ordering his arrest and punishment.

Meantime one of the early moves Dr. Sun is expected to make is that of appealing to the foreign powers for recognition. He is backed in this intent by the fact that he has the old parliament with him, that he is upholding the constitution and that many of his leaders were members of the Peking Government which was originally recognised by the powers and which later was driven from Peking and from power by the northern militarists.

But these are not the only troubles confronting Chang and Tsao. The outbreak along the Peking-Hankow line bodes them ill and the Urga nut is no nearer being cracked. As to the latter, they are expected to appoint the monarchist leader, Chang Hsun, to head the expedition which is to be composed entirely of Fengtien troops. The main column is to consist of the 27th division under the command of Chang Tso-hsiang, brother of the Mukden chief, while the vanguards are to be led by Kao Feng-chen.

Peking is unable to shoulder the financial burden. So the conference suggests that the administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway allot a sum of $3,000,000 for the march.

A great deal of commotion has been created in Tientsin as the result of the presence of the undisciplined troops from Paotingfu and Mukden. A section of the police has already struck and it is expected that the entire force will go out unless some settlement is made shortly to its satisfaction.

The first disorder took place on Monday when the Police Station at the Tientsin City Temple was wrecked by the Chihli troops following a general assault on the police. The riot began when the soldiers refused to pay for tickets in the tramway cars. Police interfered but were overpowered. The Chief of Police, Yang Yeh-teh, is helpless in dealing with the offenders for fear of injuring the feelings of Tsao Kun.

The martial aspect suddenly taken on by Tientsin on account of the presence of two of China's wily militarists is expected to draw a vehement protest, from the Diplomatic Corps. The bringing in of troops into Tientsin is a direct violation of the terms of the Tientsin treaty of 1901, in which it was stipulated that no unit of Chinese soldiers was to be stationed within 20 li of Tientsin.

For their own safety, Chang and Tsao consider it necessary for them to co-operate in view of the strong position being assumed by Tuchun Wang Chuan-yuan of Hupeh. Moreover, they now see the expediency of placing the Central Administration under their direct control. A manifesto maintaining the policy of the present Cabinet in the curtailment of the administrative expenses is also promised.

Another development is that Chang and Tsao have again failed to pick a man to form a Cabinet in place of Chin Yung-peng. They are obliged once more to turn to Chin. A declaration inviting the nation to support the falling Cabinet is expected soon.

As a result of this decision pro tem, Chin has returned to Peking and is once more ready to put up his signboard for another show. The old wash-outs, like Lu Chung-yu, Tsao Ju-lin and Chang Ho are manouvering for berths in the new ship of state.

The following delightful trifle I came across in the last issue of London Opinion that has been received here. With a little imagination you can fit any amount of fitting punishments to any amount of fitful crimes:

FITTING PUNISHMENTS

Following upon the heels of the report that a hardened offender has been sentenced by a United States court to live with his mother-in-law, comes the news that a man charged at Thames Police Court with using bad language was allowed to go, on promising the magistrate that he would take a course in the English classics. While these two sentences err perhaps on the side of ferocity, they nevertheless herald a new era in Gilbertian jurisprudence, and we may shortly see the following praiseworthy attempts to make the punishment fit the crime:

Droska Blueski was brought up at Bexcombe on Monday, charged with loitering with intent to commit a felony. The police stated that this man, who is tall and cadaverous looking, had for some time been observed standing at street corners disguised as a Pole, whereas he was actually a Russian. The papers found on him showed that he was concerned in a Bolshevist plot to poison the water supplies of local dairymen. The magistrate said that a criminal of this calibre could not be let off with mere imprisonment; he must go to the public baths for twenty-four hours, and if he appeared before that Court again, he would probably get a shampoo and a hair-cut as well.

PAGE PELMAN

The Home Secretary has intervened in the case of the defaulting tax-collector who was recently ordered to memorise the simplified exposition of Einstein's Theory of Relativity, and has directed that the sentence be reduced to one of five years' penal servitude.

PAGE THE WHEEL

Reginald Revoak was charged with being concerned in the promotion of illegal gaming, to wit, crown-and-anchor. Having elicited the fact that defendant was a bachelor, the magistrate stated that as he seemed so fond of games of chance he would be given an opportunity of sampling a lottery. He would be released on condition that he married within three months. On hearing the sentence, the unfortunate man burst into tears, and was gently assisted outside by several spinsters who happened to be in the body of the court.

High-speed motoring is receiving scant encouragement from the Maidstone bench. Addressing four defendants who were found guilty of exceeding the limit last week, the Chairman said he was at a loss to understand this insane craving for speed. Personally, if he wished to travel, he did not rush about the countryside to the danger of other people; he went by train, or—if time pressed—hired a trap. This sort of thing must stop. He shared the opinion of his fellow-Justices that such offences called for sentences which should act as a warning to others. Two of the defendants would be handed over to the South-Eastern railway to fill vacancies as guards, and the others would be impressed into service as bathchairmen at the Thanet Seaside Home for Civil Servants.

POOR OLD G. K.

At Liverpool, on Saturday, G. K. Jesterton, a passenger on the Gigantic from New York, was charged with failing to declare two Americanisms and a split infinitive, which were discovered by Customs officers when overhauling his vocabulary. In a long and erudite speech, during which the presiding magistrate several times referred to a pocket dictionary, Mr. Jesterton said he was under the impression that these articles could be imported in the same way as paradoxes, several of which he had brought back, without official molestation, from previous lecturing tours. He was ordered to drink a cup of cocoa with every meal for a month.

Tendencies Of Modern Education

(A lecture by Dr. John Dewey, delivered in Chip Bee School, Amoy on April 6 at the Inauguration of Amoy University.)

(Reports by K. S. Weigh)

TODAY I want to speak to you on two influential principles of modern education. The first principle is self-activity. Did you ever stop to think: How is it that small children learn so quickly and so much before they ever go to school at all? Some of you have studied a foreign language, and you know how difficult it is and how much training is needed before you are able to master it. Yet a little baby having no experience whatsoever, mind undeveloped, succeeds without any special training to be able to speak its mother tongue. Chinese children learn the Chinese language, and American and European children learn their respective languages easily, forgetting they are learning any language at all. Our learning a foreign language is exactly the same as small children learning to speak their mother tongue. Going over the early part of a child's life, we notice that during the first five years he learns more than any other period of five years afterwards. It is therefore worth while for teachers and students of education to note why is it that children learn so quickly before they go to school. Well I take this instance as an illustration to show what I mean by self-activity.

In the first place, there is a need in children which gives them a motive to learn. A child wants to learn, and he knows why he wants to learn. He soon finds there are many things in the world for which he wants words. There are things that he can get from his parents, sisters, and brothers, in the way of comfort, happiness, if only he can talk to them. There are many occupations and activites going on around him, and if he only can understand, he can have a share in them. If he cannot talk to them and understand them, he is shut out from these comforts, happinesses, and activities.

This therefore is the reason why he is so eager and anxious to learn, and goes ahead of himself. He has a purpose and use for the language, so he needs not be compelled by people to learn. There should be a need inside a person which pushes him forward. If any one feels a need for a certain knowledge, then he has an aim, or appetite, and therefore he needs no compulsion from others.

If you compare a child who learns by pushing himself from within, and one who learns by going to school, you will find a great difference. A child who goes to school is given various subjects such as arithmetic, geography, history, etc., to learn. They are nothing to him but lessons to be learned and that is all. He does not feel any need for this knowledge, therefore he does not feel an interest for this knowledge. If we try to teach a baby on a bench at home words which he has no use for, then it will be a very hard thing. Therefore the first thing to be done in order to carry out this principle of self-activity is to create a sense of necessity, then there will be an intellectual hunger for knowledge.

The second element in self-activity comes directly from the first. There should be opportunities for pupils to practise upon using and applying what they have learned. What they have learned should not only be stored up. We notice very often that as soon as a child gets a new word, he tries to find a chance to use this new word. When we contrast this child before he goes to school with a child who goes to school, we find this difference that there are very few chances for the latter to put into practice what he has learned. Many people put eggs, meat, etc., into store rooms to be stored up for future use. Now it seems to me that a great deal of learning in schools amounts to the same thing. The cold storage of a pupil is his memory. The child who learns the language, uses what he learns, and there is no need for him to remember, as he puts the words to constant use. But in a school the pupils instead of using constantly what they have learned, put them into their memory, and only once in a while take them out, just like people taking out the stored up eggs and meat to see whether they are spoiled or not. Therefore as to self-activity two things are necessary: firstly, there must be a need, a purpose, or a motive for the promotion of self-activity, and secondly, there must be opportunities for the actual application of what has been learned.

The first conclusion I want to draw from this principle of self-activity is that it is a matter of intellectual activity and not a physical or emotional one. Some people think that by self-activity children may do what they like without guidance or direction. This is not self-activity, because it omits the intellectual element. Real self-activity means that the mind should be active, that the persons should see things and do things for themselves. By exercising one's own power is the only way a person ever learns anything. We know full well that no one else can digest food for us. Our own digestive organs have to do the work. But too often in schools, instead of asking children to use their own minds and observations, we ask them to store up things from lectures and books. The reason why so much emphasis is being put upon memorising facts and reproducing them when required is simple. It is so easy both for teachers and pupils, saving it much intellectual work. But memory is too easy and cheap a substiute for self-activity, and for personal thinking. If instead of eating and digesting our physical foods we simply put them in a box, they will never be expected to turn into blood and flesh. Committing things to memory, reproducing them in examinations and recitations is just like storing physical food in a box. No energy of the mind will ever be created. If a teacher wishes to introduce self-activity into his educational system, he will not be successful if he turns pupils loose to do everything and anything for themselves. The teacher can only succeed when he has aroused a purpose or aim, so that the pupils will feel a need for what they are learning. It is not self-activity to act upon some emotion or whim of the moment. We have to turn our emotions to purposes and that kind of purposes which never last, carrying us forward to continual use. Why is self-activity intellectual and not physical restlessness? In fact intellectual and physical self-activites are so closely connected, and in the case of young people there is even more physical activity than intellectual activity. The mother at home of course does not expect her baby to learn much by putting him on one spot and keeping him quiet all the time. She knows in this way her child will be made stupid. We develop stupidity if we keep students physically quiet all the time. This is the very principle that is back of the Kingdergarten where children learn by doing things. This principle needs to be carried out in primary schools as well. To learn by doing is important. When we see a new thing we want to hold it in our own hands. How uneasy we feel if it is held in another's hand who won't let us have it.

This simple principle lies back of the laboratory work as well. Pupils do not appreciate the truth of abstract sciences expect by seeing. They wish actually to perform the experiments themselves. Therefore every primary school should have heaps of sand and clay with which the pupils can put into shape what they have studied in their geography class as to the earth, the stars, and so forth. Every primary school should have an abundant supply of papers and cardboards, knives and scissors, with which the pupils can cut out things they know of. There should be plenty of paint and brushes, not merely for the art of painting alone, but for them to represent on cloth and paper ideas and experiences, express and record new thoughts of their own.

In the history class, if the children only learn from books events of by-gone ages, it would be of no use, for they are not more than words. But if they make dresses, armour, and weapons, etc., which people of olden times used, or if they act in plays the lives of great men, then these things become living to them. Teachers need to remember that things children learn in the class-rooms are not creative. If a teacher wants to introduce and cultivate self-activity in the pupils he should be on the alert for things that are out of the doors of the class-rooms. Students should be brought out of the class-rooms as much as possible. Historic episodes that occurred in the vicinity of the school should be remembered and students brought to the spot in their history classes. Teachers should be familiar with the geographical peculiarities of the locality, So that through their own mental action the students can actually observe these things with their own eyes.

These are but some scattering and inadequate illustrations of what I mean by the principle of self-activity in modern education.

Now I want to ask the teachers: What is the best thing as a teacher you can give to your pupils? You may teach very faithfully and listen to the pupils' recitations conscientiously, and as a result of this, the pupils may study and memorise faithfully also. Yet the very most you can give in this way is a very small part of the total of knowledge. A considerable part of the knowledge pupils commit to memory, they never will have any use for. And if they have no use for short time, this does not mean that the teachers may thus be lazy and careless. It means there is a better way. If a desire for knowledge along any line, if a mental hunger, or if a need is aroused in a person, then it will stay forever in his mind. It should be remembered that the facts which pupils learn do not often grow but very often shrink. If the pupils' curiosity, if their spirit of investigation, is aroused, then you will have done something for them which lasts as long as they last, long after they leave you or your school. The success of a teacher is better measured by how much is the sense of intellectual self-activity that is created in the minds of the pupils than by how many are the facts that are made to be stored and committed to memory.

Now I want briefly to discuss the second influential principle of modern education, and that is Social Activity.

If you ask any student why he goes to school or pursues a branch of study, you are sure to meet the answer that he hopes to help his country sometime later. This very answer shows a recognition of the social value of education. It is hard to find any particular need which is of greater value to the country than self-activity, which is perhaps the most important part in the social activity of modern education. This country chooses to take the course of transforming herself into a republican form of society. Experiences of the last ten years show that it is a long and slow process which cannot be accomplished over-night or overyear. I don't believe that China will ever be successful in this undertaking if she does not have universal education; and I also don't believe that China will ever have universal education if the principle of self-activity is not cultivated. In a democracy passive activity has no place. In an absolute monarchy or autocratic society people may go on without self-activity, as they are trained in a passive way in every respect. They learn submission to the will of others. Their spirit is to follow and not to lead. But in a democratic society the spirit is to act and to lead. For a country to be really republican is required the development of the ability of people to observe and think for themselves, the development of intellectual independence, initiative, plans and methods to bring these plans into realisation. Teachers are under a great temptation to think that as they know they are wiser than their pupils, so they are at liberty to shape their minds according to their wishes. They forget that in thus imposing their knowledge upon the pupils they are permanently crippling the thinking power of the nation. We must drive away from our minds the false notion that a good pupil is one who repeats well from the books. A good pupil is one who is mentally active, one who formulates his own thoughts originally. China will be a Republic if all the boys and girls can go to school. But this will take a long time. However, it is not necessary to wait for the arrival of this day and then begin to do things. The gist of the thing is that it largely depends on how you treat those who are already in schools. Long before compulsory or universal education prevails in China, a great deal can be done to make China a really republican form of society. If the pupils are taught in such a way as to cultivate passive obedience and its other allied qualities then this day is simply postponed. But if the pupils are taught in such a way that the creative mind, which is really the soul of individuality, can be developed then you hasten the coming of this day. This is the only way that through education the social aim may be attained.

In conclusion I want to express the great hope, confidence rather, that this institution which is in itself a great factor of self-activity shall grow and expand first from this small locality and then to the whole of the country. This is the spirit of self-development which comes only through self-activity.

Anecdotes Of The Famous

Of the many stories told by Sir Harry Lander, one concerns a christening ceremony which was taking place in a church in a mining district. The infant was most gloriously arrayed, and among other things it wore a splendid bonnet, which, when the critical moment arrived, the mother found some difficulty in removing. With the eyes of the congregation upon her, the woman became very flustered, and her attempts to hold the baby and take the bonnet off at the same time seemed likely to end in dropping the child on the floor. At last the clergyman turned rather impatiently to the father, a particularly powerful collier. "Can you hold the child?" he said sharply. The big collier gave the clergyman, who was rather diminutive, a disdainful glance. "Haud him?" he whispered fiercely, "man, I could fling him o'er the kirk, and you tae, if need be."

The Repah Rubber And Tapioca Estates, Ltd.

Better prices for rubber may not be anticipated, said the chairman Brodie A. Clarke, of the Repah Rubber and Tapioca Estates, Ltd., yesterday, at the company's annual meeting, until planters get together to reduce the large stocks of unsold rubber now held in storage.

There is a lack of unanimity among planters, he continued, in the matter of controlling the market. The Repah company, its report showed, ceased tapping at the end of the year, because of the low market values and the surplus of unsold stocks.

The affairs of the company and the condition of the estates were shown to be good.

Director A. J. Welch, and shareholders representing 55,775 shares attended the meeting, which was held at the offices of the agents, Messrs. Hopkins, Dunn and Co., 17 Avenue Edward VII.

Resolutions were passed as follows:

That the report and statement of the company's accounts for the period ended December 31, 1920, as presented to the meeting be approved and passed, proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Welch.

That Mr. B. A. Clarke be re-elected a director of the company, proposed by Mr. Welch, seconded by Mr. P. C. Inglis.

That the appointment of Mr. A. J. Welch as a director of the company be confirmed, proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Inglis.

That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected auditors of the company for the ensuing year at an annual fee of Tls. 250.00, proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Welch.

That in accordance with paragraph 51 of the company's articles of association the next annual general meeting shall be held in either the month of April, or May, 1922, proposed by Mr. Hua Yung-keng, seconded by Mr. Inglis.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

"Gentlemen: From the manager's report, you will have seen that the year's crop amounted to 227,390 lbs. of rubber being lbs. 12,610 below his estimate. This was caused by abnormal weather conditions, and shortage of labor. The average price realised was 1/5½ per lb. against 1/9¼ for the preceding year.

"A lot of thinning out has been, and is being done on the estate, and a census of the remaining trees is now being taken. The additional area of 340 acres planted up during 1917 and 1918 is coming on splendidly, the total cost to date being Tls. 34, 762.17 or , slightly over Tls. 100.00 per acre a capital expenditure which, provided the rubber market recovers, should prove an excellent investment.

"Your directors decided at the end of the year to cease tapping the price of rubber being so low, that the working of the estate, if production were continued would entail a loss of approximately Straits $6,000 per month, whereas by stopping production entirely, the loss would be about S. $4,200 per month. As no financial assistance is to be obtained from the banks, Messrs. Hopkins, Dunn and Co., Ltd., the secretaries and general managers of the company have undertaken to find the necessary funds to keep the estate going for the present.

"Unfortunately for the industry there seems to be a regrettable lack of unanimity among planters, no definite arrangement having been made for wholesale reduction of output—and I feel sure until something is done in this respect, the present huge stocks will still be added to, and an increase in price cannot be anticipated. Personally I must admit that I can see no silver lining to the clouds that at the moment overshadow the industry. At the same time, should business at home and on the continent show any signs of returning to normal, it would no doubt reflect to our benefit.

"With regard to the accounts I regret to say that revenue account shows a loss for the year of Tls. 4,444.02. The balance sheet shows over and above capital, liabilities to the amount of Tls. 62,837.56, and liquid assets Tls. 15.635.79. These assets are now being used in keeping the estate going.

TROOP ORDERS FOR WEEK ENDING APRIL 30th, 1921

SCOUT NOTES

With the Jamboree only six weeks off the Scouts are now as busy as bees preparing for it—or ought to be! The chief item on the program will be the Troop display which is to be quite original and quite secret. No Troop is to know what another Troop is going to do. Marks will be awarded for

a. Originality.
b. Interest shewn by spectators.
c. The working of the Troop as a whole.
d. Pep.

Scouts must not forget that this is the first Jamboree Shanghai has ever held and it is the first time money has been charged for admittance. It is up to the various Troops to see that people get their money's worth so that they will be desirous of coming to the next Jamboree. The Scouts need the money for a camping ground which they have in view and unless the Jamboree is a success, and scouts sell the greatest possible number of tickets, that is where the camp will remain, ...in view.

To encourage the sale of tickets marks will be awarded to each Troop on a percentage basis as follows:

Number of tickets sold.
Number of scouts in Troop.

The Troop gaining the highest fraction will be given 100 percent marks, the next highest in proportion, and so on. These marks will take the place of the 2nd. Field Day as Troops will be too busy preparing for the Jamboree to admit of a Field Day during the coming month.

The first marks to be granted for the Rotary Shield will be given next week for a Surprise Turn Out. Officers i/c of Stations will award marks as follows:

A Order of arrival—as arranged.

B. For neatness in appearance when reporting 50 percent.

C. Intelligence displayed when taking and carrying out orders 50 percent.

The results will be forwarded to Hon. Sec., as soon as tabulated.

Officers i/c of Stations are Scoutmasters Macdonald, Hore, Vanderburg, Jacobs, and Luker.

Mr. G. E. Knight has consented to become Assistant Scoutmaster of the French School Troop, and the good wishes of the Association go with him in his work. He has had a fairly wide experience of scouting in England and so his services will be invaluable to the French Troop.

There will be the usual bugling practice in the Gun Shed of the Town Hall on Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. under Mr. A. B. Rosenfeld.

F. C. MILLINGTON,
District Scoutmaster,
B. P. Scouts,

A Famous Play. A Pathetic Story A Well-known Cast

"MY OLD DUTCH" is a rare picture, great in its simplicity, strong in its appeal, and splendidly played by its two principals. It is a story that might have come from between the covers of a Dickens, with his sunshine and shade, with its quaint type and its life.
